The President Will Not Come South of the Mariem, According to Present Plane-Belegations from Southern States Make Glowing Fromises to Chairman Carter.

Chairman Carter of the Republican National Committee acknowledged yesterday that President Harrison intends visiting this city this week and made public the details of the President's trip.
Mr. Harrison will leave Loon Lake this evening on the train which is due in New York at 7:30 o'clock to-morrow morning. No stop will be made on the way, and on his arrival the President will at once go to Whitelaw Reid's summer home at Ophir Farm. That day and the following night he will spend with the candidate for Vice-President, and on Thursday he will start on his return for Loon Lake. The return journey will be interrupted, however, by several short stops for the purpose of making addresses. This arrangement is under the management of the Republican State Committee. Chairman Hackett of the State Executive Committee enlarged on this programme, as announced by Mr. Carter. He said that the President will not come south of the Harlem River. His car will be cut out of the train at Mott Haven and sent up to White Plains tomorrow morning, and will be attached to the New York Central train at Mott Haven when he leaves on Thursday morning. On the return trip Chairman William Brookfield of the State Committee will accompany the President. The train will stop for several minutes at Poughkeepsie, Hudson, Albany, Schenectady, and Amsterdam to allow Mr. Harrison to speak from the platform. Herkimer will be reached by evening, and Senator Warner Miller will entertain the President over night. The Senator's fellow townsmen will be entertained by an address from the candidate. The journey will be resumed on Friday, and stops and apseches will be made at Utica, Lowville, Carthage, Watertown, and Ogdensburg, where Mr. Harrison will spend the night. On Saturday morning he will make but one speech on his way to Loon Lake, and that will be at

Senator George Z. Erwin's home, Potsdam. Details are lacking as to what the President is to do while at Mr. Beid's house, but it is not supposed that he is coming from Loon Lake simply to shake Mr. Reld by the hand, partake supposed that he is coming from Loon Lake simply to shake Mr. Reid by the hand, partake of his hospitality for one day, and then return. The suppressed portions of the managurs plans are said to centain information as to gentlemen like Thomas C. Platt and others prominent in State Republican politics, who will meet Mr. Harrison and confer with him regarding the campaign in this State. That conference and the visit of Mr. Harrison to Warner Miller on the following day are expected to result in a perfectly satisfactory arrangement whereby the Administration will recognize Platt and Miller as representatives of the Republican organization in the State. This means the suppression of Secretary of the Navy Tracy as a disturbing element and consultation with Messra. Platt and Miller in the distribution of Federal patronage. No reference is made by Mr. Carter to the probability of Mr. Harrison's making public his letter of acceptance while here, but it is understood that he will do so.

Chairman Cartor, who did not allow Sunday to interrupt him in the prosecution of his campain labors, was on land early at hoadquarters yesterday morning. The North Carolina contingent, which has been persistent in its endeavors to secure the aid of the committee, was waiting for the Chairman. It was re-enforced by National Committeeman H. C. Cowles, Chairman J. R. Evans of the Republican State Committee, State Senator C. V. Walser, J. N. Harris, and D. B. Russell, who, with Candidate for Congress Thomas Settle and United States Marshal Tyre Gienn, told Chairman Carter what a bright prospect there is of carrying the old North State. They said that the third party estimates its vote in the State at nearly 80,000, though the Democrats allow only about 40,000. If it is 15,000 the delegation thought the Republicans will be able to carry the State. But to do this the managars of the campaign in North Carolina Committee, They handled some of the compaign boodle four years ago, and they want to do so again. be demands on the National Committee for money are said to be greater than in any pre-vious campaign. The Third party has threat-ened to put so many States in the doubtful column this year that the campaign man-agers in those States, who have herotofore been obliged to conduct a losing fight with what funds they could scrape together them-selves, are making demands on Treasurer what funds they could scrape together themselves, are making demands on Treasurer Bliss which will be difficult to meet. Virginia and West Virginia and Tennessee are calling for financial aid, as well as North Carolina, and promise wonders in the way of Republican success if it is fortheoming. But the bulk of the fund, it is said, must be spent in New York, Indiana, and Connecticut, as usual.

The Virginia delegation, representing Gen.
William Mahone's organization, also called on Chairman Cartor yesterday. It was headed by ex-Congressman Edmund Waddill, Jr., who represented the Hichmond district in the Fifty-represented the Richmond district in the Fifty-first Congress. With him were ex-Congress-man Bowden, H. De B. Clay of the Newport News, and J. W. Southard of Richmond. The colored element of the party in the old Domin-ion was also represented. Judge Waddill said that matters are in fairly good shape in Vir-ginia from a Republican point of view. Secretary of War Stophen B. Elkins was on hand to make a further plea for assistance for West Virginia.

Secretary of War Stophen B. Elkins was on hand to make a further plea for assistance for West Virginia.

Anthony Higgins, the Republican Senator from the Democratic State of Delaware, spent an hour with Chairman Carter, and left in a seemingly happy frame of mind, saying as he departed that he had every hope of seeing Delaware in the Republican column next fall.

Other callers were Secretary of the Treasury Charles Foster, Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota, ex-Congressman Ben Butterworth of Ohio, Albert W. Wishard of Indiana, Major A. M. Hancock of Maryland, and Gen. George A. Sheridan, who has justreturned from a stumping tour of Montana. Gen. Sheridan said that that State is sure to choose Republican electors on the silver issue and the tariff on wool and lead.

been offered for adoption by Chairman Carter and his colleagues by men who expect to make a fortune out of their inventions. These inventors haunt headquarters every day, but do not meet with much encouragement. One of the queerest devices is a fly paper sheet, with pictures of Harrison and Cleveland. It is proposed to place these on the market, with the face of one candidate covered with gum, which will catch the unwary fly. The invention was not approved by Gen. Clarkson, to whom it was submitted, and another man joined the army of the disappointed which has marched from 518 Fifth avenue.

THINKS HIS RECORD AGAINST HIM. Assemblyman Clorieux Voted for the Con

ombine and Will Not Run Again. Assemblyman W. L. Glorieux of the Ninth district of Essex county, New Jersey, came out with a card yesterday, in which he declined to run again. His chief reason was that it would hurt his party because he voted for the coal combine bill. He said that his vote was honest, but he now feels that the people have condemned it, and that upon this account alone it would be unwise for him to run again. Glorieux is a Republican and lives in Irvington, where he was elected village President a year or two ago.

Assemblymen Blackilated by the State Trades Assembly.

ALBANY, Aug. 29.-The Executive Committee of the State Trades Assembly held a meeting here yesterday. The Legislative Committe presented their annual report. The success f the various members is based on their record on the following bills: State Printing. Anti-Pinkerton, Weekly Pay, Conspiracy, an Regulation of Manufacture and Sale of Gilded Ware. Those voting for all received a star of honor; for four, favorable mention; for three, favorable mention; for two, lukewarm.

Those blacklisted are Messrs. Adams, Brinkerhoff, Fyerett Brown, Walter L. Brown, A. R. Coukling, Howard Conkling, Cole, Cowan, Denniston, Fuller, Gallagher, Gilford, Hoag, Husted, Judson, Reeler, Laing, C. Lewis, F. Malby, Matthews, A. J. McCommick, Olin, Palmer, Pierson, A. H. Pierson, C. N. Reed, William Reid, Roberts, Selleck, Smith, Stevenson, Stranalian, Thornton, Tracy, Tripp, Wait, Ward, Warner, Wells, Obed Wheeler, William E. Wheeler, Whitcomb, and Worden.

The committee decided to submit the following pledges to legislative candidates and then adjourned: Conspiracy, State Frinting, General Prison bills, and to amend the law in relation to Board of Mediation and Arbitratration so as to compel corporations and their employees to submit to arbitration in labor differences and abide by the decision of the same. Ex-Mayor Prince on the Force Bill-Mr. Wallace Replies to Senator Squire, The principal visitors at Democratic national headquarters yesterday were from the South. and came to confer with Chairman Harrity regarding the situation in their States. Among them were Congressman William L. Wilson of West Virginia, who was the permanent Chairman of the Chicago Convention; Senator Pugh of Alabama, Senator Hunton of Virginia, and Col. Taliaferro Stockton of Florida. Beyond the conferences with these and other gentlemen there was little done aside from the usual routine by the Chairman and his aides. Secretary Sheerin, Treasurer Roosevelt, and Bradley B. Smalley.

Frederick O. Prince, ex-Mayor of Boston, who was for twenty-eight years secretary of the Democratic National Committee, passing through the city on his way to West Point. called to pay his respects to the new Demo-cratic managers and some of the old friends who fought by his side in the former battles of

"I think it is right," said Mr. Prince, "to make the Force bill the issue in this campaign. Mr. Harrison cannot get away from the paign. Mr. Harrison cannot get away from the Force bill. He is committed to it. I can almost tell what he will say regarding it in his letter of acceptance. He will talk of 'honest elections,' but repudiate the hayonets, while he asks for 'reasonable legislation' to bring about the end sought. I spent a pleasant half hour with our new Chairman, and he seems to me the right man in the right place, full of hope and energy, and I do not doubt that under his inspiration everything for success will be done."

and energy, and I do not doubt that under his inspiration everything for success will be done.

Mr. Prince said that the Democrate would surprise the country in Massachusetts with an unprecedented vote, and that Gov. Russell will doubtless be redicated.

Before leaving for his home in Tacoma, Wash., yesterday, National Committeeman Hugh C. Wallace got back at United States Renator Watson C. Squire, who said that Mr. Wallace's hopes of Democratic success are vain, and that the reasons on which he bases them are not good. Mr. Wallace said that the course of the Democratic State Convention in condemning the appropriation for the Seattle Canal will meet with the approval of the majority of the voters of the State of Washington. "Tacoma's condemnation of the canni scheme does not arise from jealousy, as Senator Squire alleges. It has its origin in the fact that the Democratic party always has been against appropriating public money for private enterprises, and that sentiment. I am glad to say, exists among the Republicans of the State of Washington also."

Col. Stockton of Florida pradicted Democratic pluralities in that State both in the October and November elections.

Don M. Dickinson, E. C. Wall, and B. T. Cable, the committee in charge of the branch headquarters at Chicago, will meet in that city on Thursday afternoon. The members of the Democratic National Committee from the States of Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, and South Dakota have been assigned to the branch headquarters, as well as other leading Democratic Clubs: Cleveland and Stevenson Tammany Club, Twenty-fourth ward; Cleveland and Stevenson Campaign Club. Twenty-first Assembly district; the John A. Telly Association: West End Association, Nineteenth Assembly district; Toung Men's Colored Democratic Club.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S PRIMARY.

Remarkable Campaign Closed, and Perhaps a Democratic Split May Come, CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 20.-The primary election which will take place in this State to morrow will settle the election of State officers and Congressmen next November. The cam-paign which has just closed has been one of the most bitter and exciting that has been known in this State since the memorable campaign of 1876, when the Government was wrested from the hands of the Republican party. That there was no blood shed is not owing to any lack of personalities on the stump. Most of the people who attended the campaign meetings, including many of the andidates, were armed, and several meetings during the canvass were broken up in con

The fight is between the conservative ele ment in the Democratic party and the Alli-ment in the Democratic party and the Alliance element. The opposing tickets to be voted for to-morrow are as follows:

Conservative Ticket—For Governor, John C. Sheppard; Lieutenant-Governor, James I. Orr; Secretary of State, L. W. Youmans: Attorney-General, W. P. Murphy; Comptroller-General. J. B. Humbert; Adjutant-General. W. H. Dixon: State Treasurer, E. H. McIver; Superintendent of Education, D. W. Hiott.

Alliance or Tiliman Ticket—Governor, B. R. Tiliman; Lieutenant-Governor, E. B. Gary; Secretary of State, J. E. Tindail; Attorney-General, W. C. Bennett; Comptroller-General, W. H. Ellerbee: Adjutant-General, H. L. Walley; State Treasurer, W. T. C. Bates; Superintendent of Education, W. D. Mayfield.

The fight at the primary will be for electors to a State Convention which will nominate State officers and Presidential electors. The election promises to be very close. The lines have been very sharply drawn between the conservative people in the cities and towns on the one side and the radical classes on the other. The Tilimanite campaign has been managed by Senator J. L. M. Irby, who succeeded Wade Hampton in the Senate last spring. Ex-Congressman Dibble has managed the Conservative campaign. The Tilimanites have control of the election machinery and are confidently boasting that they will elect their candidates by 30,000 majority. The Conservatives, on the other hand, claim that they will elect 180 of the 320 delegates to the State Convention.

The race for Congress is by direct primary, each Congressman managed in the confidents of the conservative of the state Convention.

The race for Congress is by direct primary, each Congressman being voted for in his own district. The candidates are as follows: First district, W. H. Brawley, Conservative, and J. Wm. Alliance, and 1876 Smith, Conservative, Seventh, W. H. Waley, Alliance, and E. W. Molse, Conservative.

The outlook at this time points to the election of Brawley in the First, Tillman in the Second, Johnston in the Third, Shell in the Fourth, Hemphill in the Fifth, McLaurin in the Sixth, and Mosie in the Seventh districts, it is probable that the Republicans will run candidates in all the Congress districts, although they have a fighting chance only in the Seventh. Although both parties in the State canvass are pledged to abide by the result of the primary to-morrow, the indications all point, no matter how the election goes, to a very serious split in the Democratic party. The nomination of a Third party Electoral ticket is looked for within a fortnight after the primary.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

A Mard but Probably Successful Fight b ALBANY, Aug. 29.-Very little interest is felt among Democratic politicians here about the outcome of the apportionment controversy. A decision is expected from the General Term of the Fifth District Court in Buffalo early in September, and from that decision appeal will be taken by the losing party to the Court of Appeals. The reason why the Democratic leaders are not concerning themselves much about the apportionment decision, while the Republicans are exciting themselves greatly over the matter, is this: Should the Court of Appeals decide the case favorably to the Demperats, as the Democratic lawyers all expect that it will, the whole agitation, so far as official results are concerned, will have been a tempest in the teapot. Should the Court of Appeals decide, in all respects, or partly, the case in favor of the Republicans, there is nothing to prevent the Governor from calling a special session of the Democratic Legislature and so altering the apportionment as to conform to the requirements as estab-lished by the decision of the court. This was done in Michigan, where the same question arose. Should the Court of Appeals decide that the Legislature exceeded its authority in discriminating between various counties in the division of Senatorial and Assembly districts, that disparity could be readily rectified at a special session without disturbing the apportionment already established in the other counties. In any event, therefore, there does not appear to be any reasonable probability that the obsolete Republican apportionment of 1879 will have to be gone back to this year. None at all. The Democrats already have the State Senate, but by a very narrow margin, and the loss of one member, from whatever cause, would make it a tie and the loss of two votes would turn it over to the Republicans. Notwithstanding the gains which the Democrats look for as results of the new apportionment, which their representatives here made last spring, indications multiply that the fight for the control of the Legislature is going to be a hard one. New York city gains six members. Brooklyn gains six, and Erie and Queens county, one each. This total of fourteen is at the expense of counties which usually give Republican majorities, and at first sight, therefore, it might well appear that the shifting of fourteen members to the Democratic column would clinch the Legislature for the Democrats for many years to come, but on closer examination it appears that the new apportionment is no altogether an unmixed benefit for the Democrats. Thus, in Cattaraugus county, which had last year one Democratic and one Republican member, the normal Republican majority is in an off year about 1,500, and in a Presidential year nearly 2,500. The Democrats lose one Assemblyman here, and, under like conditions, one in Jefferson county, where Flower's local popularity last year pulled through the Democratic candidate in the Second district by a majority of 11. Similarly, Niagara county, which had two Democratic Assemblymen in the last Legislature and in the Legislatures of 1801 and 1830, has an Assemblyman cut off from it this year. This is a Democratic loss, So, probably, is the reduction of one in Otsego. This county, one of the closest of the State, has usually been represented by one Democrat and one Republican. It went for Fassett by 350 votes last year, and for Harrison in 1888 by 390. The one Assemblyman this year is pretty certain to be Republican. In Oneida, where last year the Democrats had two Assemblymen out of three, and in Ulster, where the same division prevailed, the Democrats are likely to lose the odd number, taken off. The local Boards of Supervisors has charge of the division of the districts, and in Oneida this year that Board is overwhelmingly Republican. Ulster county has a large reserve Republican vote, which comes out only in Presidential elections, and this fact is pretty sure to operate to the benefit of the Republicans in the local contest in Ulster this year. Last year Flower was 1,800 votes short of the Democratic total of 1888, whereas Fassett fell short of Harrison, in Ulster, 3,300 votes. Against these losses to the Democracy, the Republicans are certain to lose eight Assemblymen, as follows: Two in St. Lawrence, and once ach in Chautauqua, Saratoga, Cayuga, Washington, and Wayne.

Outside, therefore, of the three metropolitan counties of New York, Kings, and Queens, the net loss to the Republicans, under the new apportionment, will not be more than a counte of Assemblymen. New York has thirty under the new apportionment and Kings county eighteen, and one and one normal division of the party which had two Democratic Assemblymen in the last Legislature and in the Legislatures of sighteen, and on a normal division of the party vote the districts are so arranged that forty-four of these Assembly districts have a Demo-cratic and a safe and certain Republican ma-pority. The division of Brooklyn districts is being toxical in the courts.

pority. The division of Brooklyn districts is being teated in the courts.

Should there be any factional divisions in New York city the majorities are so low that quite a considerable number of the districts would thereby be rendered doubtful. The normal Democratic majority of New York city at present is put at 60.000, which, if evenly divided between the districts, would leave the Democratic with a safe margin of 2.000 in each. Unfortunately the Democratic vote is not distributed with such evenness, and whereas the majority in some districts runs as high as 5.000, it fails actional troubles be case as the majority in some districts runs as high as 5.000, it fails actional troubles be case as the majority in some districts runs as high as 5.000, it fails actional troubles be case as the districts would be lost to the Democracy. In the Presidential contest fully a dozen of the Assert into the contest fully a dozen of the Assert into the contest fully a dozen of the Assert into the contest fully a dozen of the 4.5 in Rive Oher districts a union of Democratic factions was brought out, and the Republicans elected 6 city Assemblymen out of the 24. In Rive Oher districts a union of Democratic factions was made, and it was well that it was, for therewise, as the returns showed, the Republican representation would prive the Republican representation would may be been doubled, amounting to 10 against 14 Democrats. A similar proportion would give the Republicans this year, in the event of any factional fight in New York. 12 members out of 30. New York city's delegation to the last Legislature was made up of 21 Democratis and 3 Republicans, and the new apportionment, therefore, under such conditions, instead of working a benefit to the Democraty would leave it with 3 less members from New York than was the case a year ago, while the Republicans would make a gain of 9, thus assuring, hepon in the Assembly, Botton and the Calledon of the Calledo the fight to keep it so will be a hard one.

Republican Pireworks on Sept. 13. Chairman Charles W. Hackett of the Republican State Executive Committee said yesterday that the Republican campaign in this State will not be in full blast until about Sept. 12. About that time, he said, if the present plan is followed, the oratorical and pyrotechnical part of the campaign will open in this city with a monster mass meeting. Where this will be held he did not say, but it is understood that the Madison Square Garden will be secured. Immediately after this preliminary outburst the State will be flooded with spell-bluders, and parades, fireworks, and campaign talk will be furnished to the end of the campaign. 12 About that time, he said, if the present

FREQUENT CHANGES IN MARS.

PROF. PICKERING'S OBSERVATIONS FROM HIS PERUFIAN STATION. The Harvard Astronomer Sees Many Changes in Color, Especially in the Neighborhood of the South Pole, CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 29.-Prof. William H. Pickering, director in Harvard College, now at Arequipa, Peru, where he is observing the apposition of Mars, has written a long description of his discoveries. He says:

"The sudden changes of color exhibited by some of the smaller areas upon the planet Mars are sometimes almost startling. A recent view was obtained shortly before sunrise. when the snowy region about the south pole appeared of the most brilliant green, quite equalling in color the rather narrow green and situated just to the north of it. Later, as the sun came up, the color of the snow changed to a bright yellow, the rest of the disk changing in the mean time to orange. Later yellow spot increased in area till it covered the whole region as far south as could be seen. This year, when first observed, this area was entirely green, but on May it, or seventeen days before the vernal equinox, the yellow, or perhaps reddish, spot appeared in the same place, and it will be interesting to determine, as the season advances, if this color again advances toward the pole.

"Changes to the east of the Syrtis Major have also been noticed by Schiaperalli. These he ascribes to extensive floods. On June 8 there was a large greenish area visible in longitude 1.80, latitude .30 north, and by July 16 this spot could not be found. The large crescent shaped area in the northern part of the planet at one time was quite dark, yet on one evening it was painted green and the ocean to the south of it blue, the difference in color one evening being very clear.

"On March 22 of the present year the crescent was well shown, but was decidedly fainter than the ocean, which was again suspected of being blue, but the color could not be satisfactorily studied."

torny confirmed. The crescent is now too far north, owing to the motion of the planet, to be satisfactorily studied."
The Professor telleves that in the future these changes will be fully understood and laws deduced affecting them. The greatest danger, he thinks, lies in optical illusion.

SOCIAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION.

Evils Which President Wayland Would Have the State Correct.

Sanaroga, Aug. 20.—The general meeting of the American Social Science Association opened here this evening with an address by the President, H. L. Wayland, D.D., of Philadelphia: subject. "Has the State Abdicated?" The speaker referred to some of the causes of widespread suffering and calamity, among them strikes and lockouts, leading to great less to the entire community, and not seldom to bloodshed and incirient civil war; the overtaxing of railway employees, leading to accidents: the adulteration of food to the amount of $700,000,000 annually in America; the accumulation of vast fortunes in few hands, with a tendency to a disappearance of the middle class; the monopoly of great tracts of land, not unseldom gained by fraud; the coal combine, &c., and yet the State is slient. He would have the State, as embodying the entire community, act for the general welfare, and take steps for the correction of these evils. Objections are made: "This is paternalism; it is socialism." But we are too old to be frightened by names. "But this is destroying the right of property." No, it may be disturbthe right of property." No, it may be disturbing the right of possession, but not of property, which is a very different thing. One's life, his character, his liberty are his property, but his land and money are but possessions, and there is no sacredness about this. Society has always assumed the right to subordinate the right of possession to the public good.

Enlarging on the principle, he urged that the commonwealth of nations should exercise its right of interference when any one state is violating the sacred rights of humanity and is injuring the human race, as in the case of the slave trade now carried on by the Arabs in Central Africa. He trusted that Mr. cliadstone would not evacuate Egypt, where the influence of Great Britain had been so immensely beneficial.

The officers of the association were instructed to convey to the Hon. Andrew D. White, about to leave on his mission as Minister to Russia, its high appreciation of his valued services in connection with this association as well as his lators for the promotion of pure legislation and good government, and the interests of America, both at home and abroad.

Eyesight to Falling. SALEM, Mass., Aug. 29.-Oliver Wendell

Holmes was 83 years old to-day. He seems as well and as strong as at any time in tan years. His eyesight, he says, is not as good as formerly. To a Sun reporter who called on the poet and essayist at his pleasant summer home at Beverly Farms the Doctor extended a cordial greeting. He was alone in the library, sitting in his rocking chair at the desk. On its top lay a few letters and scattered papers.

" I read considerable," said the Doctor, "but I cannot read the newspapers very well. type bothers me somewhat, much more than books. I find a great many books that I can read with considerable case." Turning his conversation toward his contemporaries, Dr.

read with considerable case." Turning his conversation toward his contemporaries, Dr. Holmes said: "I had the honor to be born in a remarkable year, the same year with four of the greatest men this generation has known—Tennyson, Gladstone, Darwin, and Lincoln—all most remarkable men. I do not class myself with those men, only that, like them, I am an octogenarian.

Dr. Holmes always speaks of Whittier in the tenderest terms, and this morning he alluded to Whittier's tribuite to him in the Adantic, Speaking of his own work he said: "From 18:il to 18:2—sixty-oneyears—is quite a span. But Whittier began before I did, and has written later, for his poem to me is later than anything I have written." The annual tribute from the Doctor's publishers was a basket of flowers. A little thing that pleased the Doctor was a group of cleven tiny tapers, intended to represent the eight and three of his age. This was from one of his little neighbors, Miss Amelia Calli, a descendent of Hobert Calli, the great antagonist of Cotton Mather. The most delicate gift Dr. Holmes received during the forenoon was a nautiful silver case on a silver stand, and in silver sorlpt lectors bore a stanza from the Doctor's fireside poem. "The Chambered Nautifus."

There were few callers in the morning, but the afternoon brought a good many visitors, among them being ex-Secretary of State Bayard.

COMMISSIONED BY EMPEROR WILLIAM. A Gorman Naval Expert Studying Methods of Construction in This Country.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29 .- Alexander Dietrich, chief constructor of the German navy and Privy Councillor to the German Admiralty. is in Philadelphia making a study of the methods and products of construction at Cramps' shipyard. Mr. Dietrich is on a mission from the German Emperor to investigate and acquire knowledge of the latest designs.

and acquire knowledge of the latest designs, devices, and appliances of naval architecture in this country. Future vessels for the German navy may be modelled after the pattern of the American cruisers and vessels of war. Lieut. W. H. He Makes Over His Property to His Wife in the Event of Any Mystery About Him. New Haven, Aug. 20.-Lieut. Totten has filed n the Town Clerk's office here the following document for record:

"This is to certify that in return for $1 in hand this day and her affection always in heart, the which is mutual, and with a view to prevent any misunderstanding as to my wishes, I now and in presence of witnesses make over and convey to my beloved wife, Mary Totten, all my personal effects and all my assets of every character whatsoever, to her and to hold in her name only henceforth; and this deed of gift is and shall be in lieu of any will of mine heretofore made and filed. And I specify that this deed takes effect now and shall remain in force until withdrawn, the which it will never be by my hand. Should, therefore, any of the accidents of life overtake me, or should 1 apparently disappear, all persons to whom this comes will know that what we have my wile alone owns, and may God bless, her and reunite us in His own good time."

changing in the mean time to orange. Later the seeing improved, and several of the canals became visible as the snow became colorless upon the surrounding mountains. The entire region enclosed between the arms of the Styrtis Major and as far as the snow cap was of a brilliant green color.

"Eloven days before the vernal equinox of the southern hemisphere a yellow spot appeared at the extreme northern point of the triangular area. As the season advanced this yellow spot increased in area till it covered the whole region as far south as could be seen. This year, when first observed, this area was entirely green, but on May B, or seventeen days before the vernal equinox, the yellow, or perhaps reddish, spot appeared in the same place, and it will be interesting to determine, as the season advances, if this color again advances toward the pole.

"Changes to the east of the Syriis Major have also been noticed by Schlaneralli. These has easile the cateribes to extensive floods. On June 8

CHARLES PARK'S WILL FILED.

His Property to Left to His Wife During Her Life, and then to Hin Children, WHITE PLAINS, Aug. 20, - The will of the late Charles Park of the firm of Park & Tillord, who died at Rye on July 28, has been filed for pro-bate in the Surrogate's Court in this village.

The instrument was executed on Feb. 5. The testator leaves to Mary Elizabeth Field of New York city $10,000; to his brother, Joseph Park, $5,000, and to Anna Reynolds of the village of Harrison, a cousin, $4,000; Florence Gillespie of Rye and Alexander Gourley of Harrison receive $2,000 and $1,000 respectively. To Christ Episcopal Church of New York city the testator leaves $3,333,33, and the same amount is left to the Methodist Episco pal Church and the Presbyterian Church of

To the widow, Emily Park, is left the residence with its contents at 22 West Twentysecond street, New York city, and the contents of the country residence at Rye. The widow is to have the use of the country home at Rye as long as she lives, after which it is to be equally divided among the children, who are Mary E. Park, Joseph F. Park, Charles W. Park, and Abbie F. Park. The residue of the estate is left in trust to be invested as follows:

One hundred thousand dollars to be invested and the income to be paid to the widow, and at her death the $100,000 to be equally divided and paid over to the children. Fifty-six thousand dollars to be invested for the benefit of Emily Park Requa, a daughter, and the income of which to be paid to her. At her death the $50,000 is to be equally divided among her heirs. second street, New York city, and the contents

$50,000 is to be equally divided among her heirs.

Fifty thousand dollars is to be invested for each of the remaining four children and the income to be paid to them. It is the wish of the testator that the stock held by him in the firm of Park & Tilford should remain and that the trustees invest the above amounts in said stock. The deceased also directed that the trustees of his estate shall, within five years after the will is protated, sell all of his real estate excepting the home on Twenty-second street and the country home at liye,

The trustees named in the will are Joseph Park, Hobart Park, and Abner B. Mills.

JENNY HILL DANGEROUSLY ILL.

A Victim off onsumption, and Ordered Away from England to Australia. Letters received in this city yesterday from London confirmed the rumor of several weeks ago, that Jenny Hill, the clever English character singer, is dangerously ill. Her disease is undoubtedly consumption, and the London specialists agree that she cannot live in Engspecialists agree that she cannot live in England a year. She is to sail for Australia, therefore, late next month, and will pass the winter in that softer clime. It is said that one of Miss Hill's lungs has completely wasted.

On her trip to Australia she will be accompanied by her daughter, Peggy Pryde, the soubsette, and by "Ted" Turnbull, Miss Hill's second husband. Miss Hill is wealthy, and the bulk of her fortune will go to Miss Iryde. There are only two children.

Jenny Hill last appeared in this country two seasons ago, when she made a hit and filled a very profitable engagement. She is over 50 years old, and has been on the stage since her sixth year. Her first marriage occurred beginned. nrst marriage occurred be

Mr. Wing, Tiutype Originator and Presidential Candidate.

Boston, Aug. 29.-Simon Wing of Boston, honored by the Socialistic Labor party as a Presidential candidate, is a manufacturer of photographic goods and general book and job printer. He is till years old, and as his birthprinter. He is 68 years old, and as his birthday comes on Aug. 29, the nomination for President was a birthday gift. When he was 21 years old he started in tusiness for himself taking dagnerrotypes, and he made a success of it from the first. He has been all his life in the photographic business, mostly engaged in establishing tintype galleries throughout the West. He has done more, perhaps than any other man to make ferrotype photography popular. He was the first to introduce tintypes, as they are generally called, and he was the first to introduce the postage-stamp size of photographs. He went to Boston in 1860.

The Holland House Litigation.

Judge Giegerich of the Court of Common Pleas yesterday reduced the cash security required to be made by Messrs. Kinsley & Baumann, proprietors of the Holland House, from $105,000 to $125,000 to secure the payment of $105,000 to $125,000 to secure the payment of the rent. The bond of $150,000 remains the same. The Judge gave the counsel nine days to agree on a referee to try the action of Mrs. Van Doren to racover the rent.

On the argument it appeared that Mrs. Van Doren has organized the Holland House Hotel Company, the capital stock of which will be $200,000. Sne will retain all but twenty shares of the stock at $5 each which are to be given to members of her lamily. It is understood that if she gets possession the company will conduct the hotel.

Dead, With a Letter in His Pocket Asking Him to Come Home. Early yesterday morning Garrett Fitzsimmons of 38 Jackson street, Newark, was found groaning under a window in the rear of his house. An ambulance started with him for a hospital, Fitzsimmons having died on the way. It is supposed that Fitzsimmons, who had been drinking heavily, pitched from a low balcony in front of his window. His skull was broken. Fitzsimmons was 50 years old sid leaves a wife in Ireland. He received a letter on Saturday telling him to come home.

Fire Drove Them Out After Midnight,

Robert Hoffner manufactures cornices in a one-story frame shed at Amsterdam avenue and 163d street. On one side of the shed is stable, and on the other a frame house occustable, and on the other a frame house occupied by Dr. Herman Weber. E. W. Kinzey lives in a frame house adjoining the doctor's. At 1% o'clock yesterday morning lire broke out in Heffner's shop. Neighbors aided the police in running the horses out of the stable, and the residents of the houses dressed and got out without much difficulty. The fire spread to the roofs and garrets of the houses. The damage was about $5,000 on buildings, stock, and furniture.

The Railroad Company Terestesing to

There were rumors vesterday that the Pana ma Railroad Company would establish a line of steamships to run in opposition to the Pacifle Mail line. The report grow out of the fact that the officials of the two companies named have so far been unable to arrive at an agreement for a renewal of the existing contract under which the Panama Railroad has been leased by the steamship line as its connecting link between the two oceans. The officers of the companies having failed to agree, the matter has been turned over to the Executive Committees, who are still striving to reach a solution of the difficulty.

The present contract expires on Feb. 1, 1893, after a life of fifteen years. Under it the steamship company paid the railroad $55,000 steamship company paid the railroad $55,000 a month for transportation of freight, passengers, and supplies. The railroad company desires more advantageous terms, and threatens to establish a coast line of its own unless its demands are compiled with. It demands, in addition to the $55,000 a month, a share in all the Central American and Mexican business delivered to it by the Pacific Mall ships, and this latter business is the obstacle to an agreement. The total tonnage delivered to the railroad by the steamship company in 1841 was 51,000 tons, and of this 22,000 tons are classed as Central American and Moxican. The steamship company insists that the present contract is not fair to it and wishes to have its tolls reduced.

ship company insists that the present contract is not fair to it and wishest to have its toils reduced.

Mr. E. A. Drake, a director and member of the Executive Committee of the Panama Railroad Company, said vesterlay: "The present contract was made when the managements of the two companies were closely aliled, and when the steamship company was not in as flourishing condition as it is now. The Pacific Mail Company has been extending its lines, has paid off its indebtedness to the Panama Railroad, and must agree now to give us a share in its earnings from the Central American and Mexican business. We have insisted that there shall be no further delay in the matter because we want to make other arrangements for connections with New York and San Francisco if they deedde not to renew the contract on what we consider fair terma. I cannot say just now what we shall do. There are several companies that would be glad to extend their lines to cur ports. Of course we would still continue to take all business offered by the Pacific Mail Steamship, but at local rates."

Rumore About Manhattan Dented. The old story that the men interested in the Metropolitan Traction Company had secured control of the Manhattan Elevated Company was renewed yesterday. It was denied with emphasis by Mr. Gould and Mr. Sage and by Mr. Crimmins of the traction company.

Railroad Notes.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey began yesterday to run its trains by the pneumatic signal system.

The traffle managers of the Southwestern lines are to meet in St. Louis on Sept. 5 to consider the decision in Texas against the Railway Commission in its application to their roads.
